

Capability Statement

About Us

We specialize in medical, laboratory, and reagent supplies and equipment. Our wide selection of products includes surgical masks, testing kits including ELISA kits, in-vivo lab equipment, lab consumables, and more. We strive to provide high quality products and great services for our civilian and government customers including the VA health system and the U.S. military.

A6 Scientific was founded in 2020 by retired U.S. Army veteran Zhiyuan He, a self-driven and dedicated entrepreneur who specializes in business management. Under his leadership, the company has established great business relationships with prominent companies in the medical and laboratory industries. A6 Scientific strives to provide its customers with great products, competitive pricing, and reliable services.
